

JOB TRANSFER

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

You want more.
Even though things are good.
Really good.
There's something... a feeling... a sense.
It's time for a change.

A new challenge, more responsibility.
You, but bigger, bolder.
You love this company.
So, you want to stay.
Because you're invested.
Because you care.
And the team cares about you.

So, now you want to know what's possible.
The search is on.
And you see it all.
Laid out before you.
In your hand, wherever you choose to search.
All the details.
The positions, the locations, the people.
And you wonder, where do I fit?
Where's my new place?
When you need help, someone is always there
for you.
Guiding, informing, counseling.
Advocating for your future.
Helping you grow.
Collaborating with you on what's next.

You find that opportunity and apply.
They respond with an offer, that you accept.
Then it begins.
So much to do, so much to know.
All the little things, the big things too.
And you remember, you're not alone.
There is somewhere to look and someone to ask.

To resolve anything that gets in the way.
How will I hand off what I'm doing?
How will I get a running start on the new job?
How will I move my life from here to there?
Every detail defined, answered and tracked.

The day arrives.
The last day becomes the first day.
To build, grow, stretch, learn and inspire others.
Confident of your choices.
Confident everything has been taken care of.
Always knowing where you stand.
Knowing you've arrived.
