Driven by artificial intelligence (AI) the tool supports a simple and efficient process that helps HR teams proactively address issues with minimal effort.

Discovery first scans relevant data in the system using its predictive analytic strategies. It then looks at the results to gain insight into patterns and inconsistencies. After that it suggests the necessary rules to optimize your data. The next step is to individually review the findings that do not conform to the identified rules.

Finally, the recommended fixes can be reviewed and approved by the user and are automatically corrected after by the tool.
